ANNIVERSARY OF HORROR

ANTHONY GRANT WAS VISITING HIS GRANDAD IN THE REMOTE VILLAGE OF GEE CROSS—

SORRY, AL, NO WAY AM I GOING IN TO GEE CROSS TODAY. NOT ON THE DAY OF THE CURSE! YOU'LL HAVE TO WALK THE REST!

GRANDAD TOLD ANTHONY A HORRIFIC TALE—

500 YEARS AGO TODAY A WITCH WAS BURNED AT THE STAKE. SHE PUT A CURSE ON THE VILLAGE BEFORE SHE PERISHED.

IN 500 YEARS TIME AT TWELVE NOON A TERRIBLE FATE WILL BEFALL YOUR VILLAGE.

AS THE CHIMES FINISHED—

THERE, GRANDAD—TWELVE O'CLOCK AND NOTHING... ER... HAPPENED!

GEE CROSS SEEMED DESERTED.

EVERYTHING IS VERY QUIET! IT'S LIKE A GHOST TOWN. COME ON, GRANDAD, ANSWER THE DOOR!

ANTHONY, IT IS YOU! COME ON, BOY, QUICK! IT'S NEARLY TWELVE NOON.

WHAT'S ON, GRANDAD?

OH NO! TWELVE NOON!

AYE! THE CURSE HAS STRUCK AND NOW ONLY YOU CAN SAVE US.

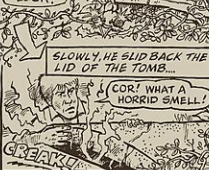

YOU MUST GO TO THE CHURCH AND THROW A PAIR OF THE VICARS UNDERPANTS INTO THE WITCH'S TOMB! THAT WILL FREE US FROM THE CURSE!

AT THE CHURCH THE VICAR, NOW A FROG, GLADLY HANDED ANTHONY A PAIR OF HIS UNDIES TO BREAK THE WICKED CURSE—

THERE'S THE TOMB, BOY, GO TO IT!

WISH ME LUCK!

SLOWLY, HE SLID BACK THE LID OF THE TOMB.

COR! WHAT A HORRID SMELL!

AS THE UNDERPANTS LANDED IN THE TOMB THE WITCH SCREAMED OUT LIGHTS FLASHED GREEN AND YELLOW, MISTS HISSED AND THEN THERE WAS... SILENCE.

LATER, THE CURSE BROKEN EVERYTHING WAS BACK TO NORMAL.

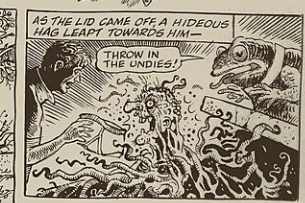

THE VILLAGE OWES YOU A GREAT DEBT ANTHONY! YOU'VE SAVED US FROM A HORRID FATE!

YOUNG ANTHONY SPED THROUGH THE FROG-INFESTED VILLAGE—

SLIMEY! EVERYONE'S BEEN TURNED INTO FROGS. I'D BEST HURRY!

AS THE LID CAME OFF A HIDEOUS HAG LEAPT TOWARDS HIM—

THROW IN THE UNDIES!

YES, BUT YOU COULD HAVE TOLD ME THE BREAKER OF THE CURSE WILL TURN INTO A HAMSTER!

SAMMY THE STEAM ENGINE

1. Sammy the Steam Engine was very happy! The Railway Controller himself was taking a ride on Sammy today!

2. But, as Sammy chuffed along, he heard the Controller talking! Sammy is getting old and worn out! I'll have to replace him with a new engine! said the Controller.

3. Sammy puffed to a halt. 'I'm not moving 'til you take that back!' hooted Sammy.

4. The Controller thought for a moment, then said - 'I can't keep you on, Sammy! You're too old and slow! But I can offer you a new job!'.

5. 'You'll have to start at the bottom, but you'll end up going all over the world!' said the Controller. Sammy was excited by that idea, so he set off happily again.

6. But their destination was a scrap-yard! And the Controller had Sammy lifted into the furnace to be melted! 'You cheat!' wailed Sammy!

7. Sammy was melted down, and the metal from his body was used to make something new. So the Controller wasn't lying, after all!

8. Now there are lots of Sammy the Safety Pins all over the world... and Sammy knows what the Controller meant by 'starting at the bottom!'.

OCH! NOO THERE'S A FINE SINGER/WE MUST GO AND SEE THAT, LATTIE

KENNETH MICKELLER
SCOTLAND'S GREATEST
SINGER WILL OPEN
THE HIGHLAND
GAMES TODAY
AT 2 P.M.

OCH! LOOK IT'S KENNETH MICKELLER
ON HIS WAY TO THE GAMES.

BUT SUDDENLY...

OK! GET IN THE CAR! WE'RE FROM THE SOCIETY FOR THE PREVENTION OF HORRIBLE SCOTTISH NEW YEARS EVE
MUSIC PROGRAMMES* AND WE'RE HUACKING YOU!

OCH! NOO!

HIS MASTER, SHOCKED BY THE HUACK
FELL INTO A PIT BUT LATTIE FOLLOWED THE TERRORISTS CAR...

SO THAT'S WHERE THEY PLAN TO HIDE MICKELLER.

BETTER GET THE POLICE!

BUT THE POLICE WERE OUT, LATTIE
SPOTTED SOMETHING THAT MIGHT BE OF ASSISTANCE...

WHILST THE NORRUBEN WAS LUNCH,
HE TOOK THEIR DOGGER...

WHAT'S THAT?

THE TERRORISTS FIRED, BUT LATTIE WAS WELL PROTECTED.

IT'S NO GOOD! OUR BULLETS ARE USELESS!

HE CRUSHED THEIR CAR

RUN...
OR WE'RE DONE FOR!

LATTIE, AWARE THE COTTAGE COULD BE

DO YOU DO QUIZZES?

Find out in our easy-to-do quiz!

1. Do you
a) do quizzes?
b) not do quizzes?
c) sometimes do quizzes and sometimes not do quizzes?

2. When you buy a magazine, do you:
a) read the sappy stories about people with stupid names falling in love?
b) look at the pictures?
c) do the quizzes?

3. If you were on a desert island, with nothing to read, no radio, no TV, no socks, and in fact nothing at all to lift the boredom except a magazine quiz, would you:
a) try to win horses?
b) stare to death slowly?
c) do the quiz?

4. Would you rather:
a) marry Mary Leighton?
b) look like Horace Watkins?
c) do a quiz?

HOW DID YOU SCORE:
Mostly 'A's. Yes, you do quizzes.
Mostly 'B's and 'C's. You really do quizzes, don't you?

OINK! presents – A Musical Western GHOST-PIGS IN THE SKY!

starring
Los Mekoneros!

Bad Jake was a gunfighter,
He was big and tough and mean,
He never bothered shaving
And his pants were never clean...

He fought and stole and gambled,
And treated people bad,
And no-one dared to stop him!
Oh, what an utter cad!

One day while Jake was riding,
An Indian called his name,
And said, 'You are a bad man, Jake,
'It really is a shame!'

He said, 'You cheat and gamble, Jake,
And you don't give a fig,
'But beware that you aren't haunted...
'By the devil's herd of pigs!'

Yippee-ti-yay! Yippee-ti-yoh!
The devil's herd of pigs!

But Jake just snarled and laughed
And knocked the Indian to the floor,
For Jake thought he was big and tough
And 'way above the law.

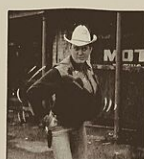

But that night he had a nightmare,
And in his sleep he cried -
He dreamed about the devil's herd
The ghost-pigs in the sky!

Yippee-ti-yay! Yippee-ti-yoh!
The ghost-pigs in the sky!

Next morning Jake forgot his dream
And rode into a town -
He planned to rob the local bank
And burn the schoolhouse down -

But all at once, a man in black
Appeared down the street,
And called on Jake to draw his gun!
There was nowhere to retreat!

Now, Jake he wasn't worried,
For he thought he was the best,
He'd never lost a gunfight,
He was the fastest in the West.

But as his foe man raised his head,
Jake gave a little shout,
For the man looked like a devil-pig,
With an eerie piggy snout!

This sight made Bad Jake hesitate,
His draw was far too slow,
In seconds he had met his fate,
Shot by his eerie foe!

As Jake lay in the dusty street,
His life-blood oozed away,
'The haunted pigs have got me,'
Were the last words he did say.

And so Jake breathed his dying breath,
His foe removed his snout,
And waved to a nearby building
And the Indian came out!

They'd plotted in advance to make
Jake make his fatal error,
And played upon his fear of ghosts
To end his reign of terror!

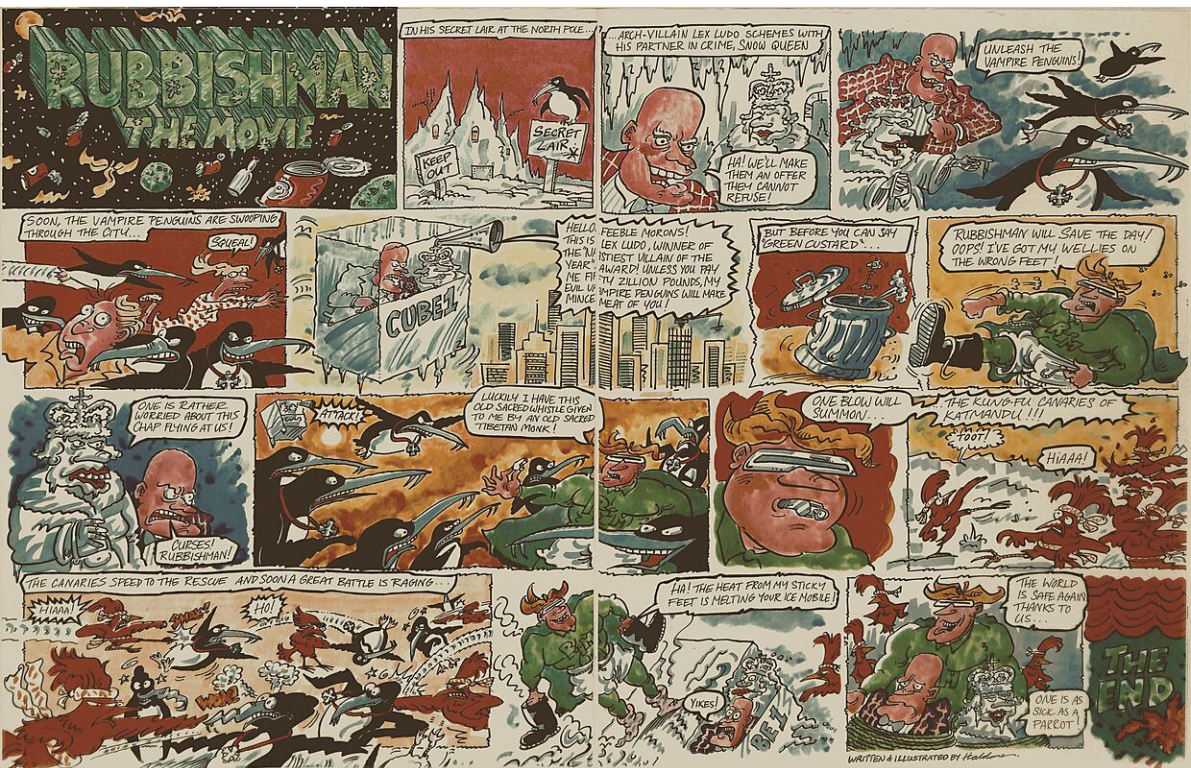

Because Jake was afraid of pigs,
His bacon had to fry -
He was beaten by a false snout -
And the ghost-pigs in the sky.

Yippee-ti-yay! Yippee-ti-yoh!
Ghost-pigs in the sky!

Alone from order space land on the pitch just as a free kick is about to be taken. Do you (a) block the shot for a distraction, (b) send them off the pitch or (c) pass?

A small earthquake swallows the home team's defender, allowing their opponents to score. Do you (a) award a goal, no infringement of the rules has occurred, (b) call it a foul because but while the goalkeeper fell in the box or (c) call him mad and stop?

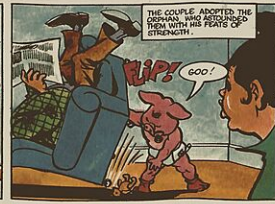

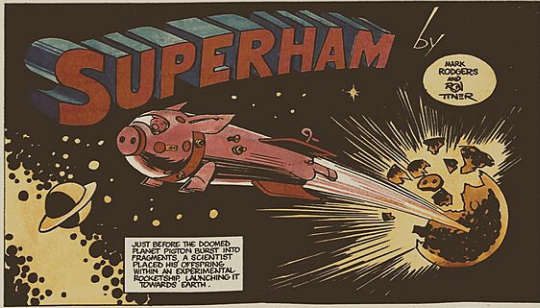

A player abuses you, calling you a short-haired old man. Do you (a) award him a free kick up the backside, (b) throw the book at him making him leave the pitch or (c) wonder where all the noise is coming from?

An escaped tiger sits one of the goalkeepers. Do you (a) for the substitute on the tiger, tiger with a roar, (b) go on with a roar of fear, and hope it doesn't go down for fear, (c) try to lure the tiger off the pitch, and ask the lioness to hunt it down for a food, or a head?

A fight breaks out between members of the home and away teams. Do you (a) send for a United Nations peacekeeping force, (b) declare the game null and void, (c) if the fighting has ended, do you let them go, or (d) take away?

These are all trick questions, as none of the above situations could happen in professional football. Space aliens and tigers are banned from most grounds under new members-only rules. New techniques such as plastic pictures, ultraviolet lighting and mood lighting are being used to prevent earthquake eversion. And as for questions (b) and (c)—well, they're just and much toward sporting gentlemen would never shoot, abuse and fight, would they?

HOW RADIO SOUND EFFECTS ARE PRODUCED!

You obviously can't get a herd of elephants or a fleet of trucks into a radio studio (unless you smuggle them in inside Steve Wright's mouth). So how do radio engineers make the sounds of such things? "Cink" reveals the secrets of this high-tech business!

1. To achieve the sound of the sea crashing on rocks, this engineer recorded a toilet flushing with a microphone concealed in her muff. Her grandad was annoyed that she hadn't waited for him to finish, but his cries of protest made ideal seagull-noises!

4. Sound recordists looking for the over-enthusiastic engineer who swallowed a barrel of gunpowder while attempting to create realistic noises for the radio adaptation of 'The Billy Bang Story'.

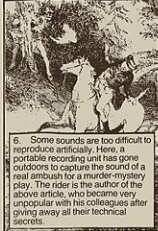

2. These sophisticated levers, pulleys, rattles etc. are used by BBC engineers to reproduce the sound of Gary Davis's brain working (not used very often).

3. Exhausted sound engineers after a hard session of throwing waste-paper baskets around the room to create background noises for a debate in the House of Commons.

5. Stamping on a drawer, full of squeaky toys, to create the crowd noises (or a 'low A-ha concert).

6. Some sounds are too difficult to reproduce artificially. Here, a portable recording unit has gone outdoors to capture the sound of a real ambush for a murder-mystery play. The rider is the author of the above article, who became very unpopular with his colleagues after giving away all their technical secrets.

The Sad Princess and the Foolish Prince

by THE BROTHERS REALLY-GRIMM

Once upon a time there was a very sad princess. She wanted to be happy, like the princesses she had read about in story-books. One day she was walking in the forest, when she saw a sad-looking frog. 'Perhaps he is a prince, turned into a frog by a magic spell,' she thought. 'I shall kiss him and release him from the spell, and he will marry me and we'll live happily ever after.'

But when she kissed the frog, it turned into a giant, slaving Nargle-beast! 'Save me, save me!' cried the princess. A prince from a nearby kingdom was riding in the forest. Hearing the princess crying, he rode to her aid, and slew the beast with an arrow to the head. 'My hero!' thought the sad princess. 'Now that handsome prince will marry me, and I'll have a happy ending after all!' But as the Nargle-beast toppled to its doom, its tail landed on the sad princess, squashing her flat.

It was a sad time for everyone, including the foolish young prince, who was imprisoned for making a tasteless remark at the funeral of the princess. He was silly enough to say: 'Well, at least she had a furry-tail ending!'
